GAMBLING BEFORE THE WAR.

Reminiscences of Big Play South in the Days of Slavery.

For years gambling on the Mississippi has been a theme written upon and read with interest. How the ideal planter got through with his patrimony; how sixty or seventy bales of cotton or fifteen colored people changed hands in a few hours; but the gambler is always portrayed as a slender, lithe and well-formed youth, with black hair, dark eyes, high boots and a dirk—dashing cavalier sort of a fellow that would brook no insult. The bluff, good-natured, easy man of about thirty-five that has the winning has been ignored.

Gambling was savory and all the large cotton and passenger packets had forward of the cabin a room about 20 by 25 feet, called the social hall. This hall was fitted up in the most luxurious style with a bar, chairs and cardtables.

At these tables, all day and night the planters, river merchants and officers were wont to tempt fortune. The favorite game was draw-poker; but in those times the gentlemen would bet on anything, from what kind of a fish a man would catch on his line to a steamboat race, and the more a man lost the bigger lion he was. Even now gambling is carried on to a great extent on all rivers, especially on the Red and Illinois rivers.

The most successful gamblers in antebellum days were George Brooks and "Bullet-neck" Green, so called from a bullet that was lodged in his neck. The latter gentleman played at and won the biggest game ever played on the Mississippi.

It was a game of draw poker between himself and three other planters. Green had about $20,000 on board the boat, but the other fellows had oversized his pile, and the game was $100 ante with no limit. Green held a remarkable hand and had staked his last dollar, but no one would "call" him. So, motioning the captain of the vessel to him, he asked for a loan, as he did not want to be run out of the game. To this the captain assented, knowing Green to be a very wealthy man, and he told the clerk to let him have any amount.

When these preliminaries were settled the players went on raising the stakes until $200,000 was on the board when one of the players called, and Green deliberately laid his cards face down on the table and said, "Boys, if I win the pot I will never turn another card;" then "showed up" four aces and a king—a hand that can't be beat—as a matter of course, winning.

It is estimated that this man won over $250,000 at cards.

The gambler in the days of slavery seldom cheated, and when he did and was discovered at it he could be found a few minutes after with a bowie-knife or bullet in him—more likely the former, for then it was a favorite weapon used with great dexterity, being thrown by experts twenty feet and driven through a mark on a two-inch plank.

It was seldom a game was played without every participant having his revolver or bowie on the table, but now the players are on the bunco order and the ones they swindle less nervy.

A DANISH WEDDING.

Notes of the Connubial Customs of a Hospitable and Interesting People.

The number of invitations vary according to the means of the brides' parents, but there are seldom less than 50 assembled, and often as many as 150, old and young.

A day or two before the wedding the various guests send their gifts, not to the bride, but to her parents, consisting generally of contributions toward the expected feast, and beyond participating in much revelry and good cheer the bride and bridegroom do not personally benefit.

One friend contributes, say, eight pounds of golden butter piled high on a platter fringed with greenery; another a score or two of eggs or some chickens. A lamb, joints of beef, or a small cask of fine old October brew, follow in quick succession; and in this way the parents frequently receive more provender than can be consumed at the festivity, and their sole expense consists in the hiring of plates and dishes from the nearest stores in the town where the farmer sells his grain and buys his wife's groceries and ribbons.

For months before the wedding the bride with her mother and sisters have been hard at work at the loom, spinning and weaving all the linen for the person, as well as for the house; which store, together with a couple of young horses, a couple of cows and a pair of sheep, invariably forms a part of her marriage portion.

Bridal ornaments are not heirlooms as in Norway. The Danish peasant girl wears a simple crown of myrtle with her national costume—varying with the district, but always charming—and pots of myrtle are carefully cherished by girlish hands through the long winters in anticipation of the great event. Her sole heirloom is the great oaken dower chest, heavily clamped and often finely carved, that holds her goodly store of linen.

At 11 o'clock on the wedding morning all the guests meet at the house of the bride, driving up in carts, and when she is ready the long procession starts for the church, headed by two outriders, who are the "best men." Next follows a cart containing the band, three or four brass instrumenters, and that standing dish, the village fiddler.

After them comes the cart containing the bride alone, both parents remaining at home to put the finishing touches to the festive cloth already spread. Behind the bride comes the bridegroom, also alone, driven by a karle.

He sits in the middle of his vehicle in all the conscious glory of a new tall hat and vast cloak with many capes, worn even in the summer time, as lending a dignity suitable to the solemnity and as a mark of distinction.

Near the church children strew flowers, as well as near the bride's old home, where there is also an archway draped with flags. Returning from church the bride and bridegroom sit together, the band preceding them, heralding their approach with a fanfare.

A DAKOTA HOME.

A Newcomer's Life in the Big Territory of the Northwest.

"How do people live in Dakota?"

"Live? Why, they prepare for it. The early comers generally put up sod houses, and there is nothing in the world so warm as a sod house. You can walk around barefoot on the floor of one, if properly constructed, in the coldest weather.

"After they have been there longer such settlers generally build log houses, hauling logs thirty or forty miles for the purpose. These houses are warm and comfortable. So long as you don't have to go out you don't know what winter is. But the sod house is not to be treated with disdain, I assure you."

"How are they built?"

"In the first place a frame of boards the size the house is to be is put up so as to give the house a nice appearance inside; the roof also is boarded over. Then the sod is cut with a plough and a bank three or four feet thick is raised all around this frame. Every sod is laid as carefully as a mason lays a brick, the roots up, and all the openings are filled in with fine dirt.

Openings are made for the windows and doors, which have frames extending from inside to outside. These will contain sometimes three windows for winter—always two. When the sod rampart is raised to the height of the roof poles are laid on and then sod put over these. The roots hold everything firm. You would be surprised to see the roots. Some of those grass roots are as thick as my finger and extend down from ten to fourteen feet."

"What?"

"It's a fact, I assure you; I have followed them down myself when digging wells in that blue-joint grass land. Why, a man in ploughing has to stop and sharpen his plough every eighty rods if he cares anything for his team. The blacksmith draws out the point, but that and the edge have to be filed down as sharp as possible, and then as I say, sharpen every eighty rods.

"But to return to the sod house. After the outside is completed the inside is finished up to suit the taste and pocket of the proprietor. Some have only the earthen floor, and others have a board floor, and are divided up into two or three rooms, and, I tell you, for winter comfort in Dakota a sod house beats them all.

"Besides these there are dug-outs on the side of a hill, and occasionally you will meet one on the prairie. The class of settlers that come in there, as a rule, have to put up with almost everything the first year or two. They count the cost and are prepared to meet the bill."

AGAINST CORSETS.

The Corset Not at All Necessary To Make a Good Figure.

No mother should allow her daughter to wear stays while she is under her charge.

If a girl never begins to wear corsets, I promise her she will not require them. But woe if she once begin to wear them, for then she will not be able to do without them, for they weaken the spine, and once weakened it cannot dispense with the false support it has long depended upon.

Believe me, the most beautiful and graceful figures are those which have never been in steel or whalebone. I will risk all I possess in a wager that if you never put stays on a little girl she will not require them when she becomes a woman, and she will have a figure that every one will admire and covet.

A young girl with a slight, supple, yet firm figure certainly needs no corset; and a woman, however stout she may be, will always look fleshier and stiffer in stays than without them. Loose jackets and flowing draperies are far more becoming to a stout figure than tight stays; and as for young, slim girls and women, all they need is a band round the waist to mark its natural curve.

I, who write these lines am a stayless being, and I need not blush if I tell you at this distance that my dressmakers used to say that, among all their ladies, there was not one who had a more perfect figure. To use their expression I was "moulee."

You see, I speak in the past tense; years have changed the once youthful figure to more matronly proportions, but I can still exercise, touching the ground without bending the knees, and perform other gymnastic feats.

I have proven by experience that the corset is not necessary, and urge all to do without it. An elastic, tight-fitting jersey will support your figure quite enough if it needs support.—Ninon.

Catching a Man-Eating Tiger.

A famous man-eating tiger was recently captured alive in India. A pit was dug for a trap and baited with a live bullock. After two days the beast came around and promptly jumped into it.

To capture him a second pit was dug near the first and of the same depth. From this a tunnel was run to the first pit, a thin wall of earth being left between the end of the tunnel and the pit. A strong bamboo cage was pushed into this tunnel from a second pit. A goat was placed in the cage and the wall of earth was broken down.

The tiger sprang upon the goat. The entrance to the cage was quickly closed, and the beast was fast, and reached Calcutta.

The Way of Telling It.

"How many rooms in your new house, my dear?" inquired a good old-fashioned mother of her daughter who had just acquired a West Side home.

"Ten apartments—reception room, drawing room, dining room, larder, cuisine, lavatory, and four chambers, besides the attic and furnace room," was the reply.

"Dear me, how your father gets things mixed," exclaimed the old lady. "He told me after he bought the house that there was a parlor, sitting room, dining room, pantry, kitchen, bath room, four bedrooms, a cellar, and a garret."—Buffalo Express.

About By-Gones.

"Let by-gones be by-gones" is no sort of a motto for a woman. She would turn her head around to look after a stylish bonnet if it broke her neck.—Burlington Free Press.

A LIGHTNING MARRIAGE.

An Indiana Parson Unites an Anxious Couple in Less than a Jiffy.

"One of the quickest marriages I ever heard of," said a man from down on the Wabash to a Mail reporter, "was performed by Rev. Dr. Aaron Turner, now in the Minnesota Conference.

"Dr. Turner was in charge of the Vincennes circuit at the time. One evening he was hurrying his toilet in preparation for a marriage that he was to perform at 8 o'clock at the home of one of his flock. He was late and very much afraid that he couldn't reach the place of appointment in time.

"Just as he got his white tie adjusted and was settling himself into his coat a knock was heard on the parsonage door. Dr. Turner took up his hat, stepped to the door, and opened it. A young man [illegible] business.

"The young man was flurried, but he managed to say that he wanted to get married, and handed the parson a marriage license.

"'Well,' said Dr. Turner, 'I can't do it to-night. I am hurrying now to perform another ceremony. I'm already late.'

"'But,' pleaded the young man, 'it won't take you long.'

"'I know, but I can't wait,' and the preacher came out and closed the door, walking rapidly away.

"'But, Mr. Turner,' called the young man, desperately, and he ran after the minister: 'you surely can marry us. It won't take you but a minute.'

"'Where's the lady?'

"'Right back here,' and the young man pointed to a figure standing in the shadow of a tree.

"'Well, come on,' Dr. Turner said, and the two went back to where the girl stood.

"'Is this the woman you want to marry?'

"'Yes,' said the young man.

"'Then you are man and wife. Good night.' And away he went, leaving the pair standing speechless.

"It was a minute before the newly made husband recovered enough to run after the preacher, who was rapidly disappearing in the dark.

"'Mr. Turner! Mr. Turner!' he cried.

"'Well, what is it?' said the preacher, pausing.

"'Why, was that all? Will that do?'

"'Yes, yes, that will do. You are just as much married as if I'd gone through a yard of ceremony. Good night!' And again he hurried away, reaching his appointment just in the nick of time.

"The young man went slowly back to his bride and spent the next hour or two in satisfying her that she was really married."—Chicago Mail.

VALUE OF BEAUTY.

Natural Lives, Appetites, Desires and Passions Increase Beauty of Person.

Physical beauty has never since the days of Greece and Rome enjoyed its proper exaltation, and it was once quite the proper thing for moralists and clergymen to decry all delight in beauty of person as unbecoming to a thoughtful and Christian people, and this kind of mistaken moral (?) scourging gradually led to neglect of personal habits conducive to perfect physical development and beauty, until about a score of years ago it became almost impossible to find a perfectly well man or woman.

But of late years a healthier sentiment has been gaining ground as a natural reaction, and schools for physical culture, gymnasiums, swimming baths, fencing lessons, etc., have materially improved the physical conditions of young men and women; while this growing interest in physical development and beauty is gradually working a change for the better in the moral conditions of the people, for a perfectly healthy man or woman, full of vital strength, and blessed with natural appetites, desires and passions, is far less apt to be a sensualist or criminal than one whose physical condition is depraved, and whose appetites are therefore vicious and degraded.

I am perfectly well aware that not all persons have come to see and appreciate the divine rights of beauty, except it be moral beauty, for I receive many letters from women who offer this one criticism on my work: "You say too much about physical beauty," and they honestly believe it, because, from having reasoned on one side of the question only, they can see good in but one method of work for moral elevation, namely, suppression.

Appetites, desires, instincts and temptations alike, without regard to their legitimate relations, must be suppressed, and the presumption is that virtue will then assert itself.—Dress.

ORIGIN OF BASE BALL.

The Noble Game Had a Humble and Foreign Beginning.

Base ball is merely a development of the old English game of rounders. Except in details the two are precisely the same. Half a century ago base ball was hardly heard of, but rounders was as common as it is in the fields about London; and their identity is more clear than even that of croquet with pall mall, or cricket with the "club ball," that gave exercise to our fathers six hundred years ago.

Rounders was never an aristocratic game. It was not played by the universities. The great endowed schools like Eton, Rugby, Harrow, or Winchester, never thought of it. Even small private schools affected to be above rounders.

It was reserved for the children in parochial establishments and the large class of costermongers, errand boys, etc. in the large cities. But it was a good game nevertheless, and the people who had indulged in it on the other side brought it here and made it what it is.

"Water, Water Everywhere."

An optimistic person predicts that the beverage of the future will be water. When that day comes, in this life, the temperance orator will have considerable difficulty to find a "frightful example" to accompany him on his tours. A man can't become a "frightful example"—a dilapidated, health-shattered sot—on water.

ANOTHER CONVERT.—Hon. H. W. Mitchell, a State Senator, of Nevada, who has been a Democrat all his life, has come out squarely for Harrison and Protection, and last week addressed a Republican meeting in San Francisco. He gave statistics to show that the United States was in no way dependent upon wool imported from Australia or elsewhere for their manufactures. "I can show," said Mr. Mitchell, "by statistics, that this country, producing as it does, the necessaries of life, and very many of the luxuries, is capable, with its interests properly guarded of dictating terms to the world." The speaker concluded by quoting a number of the Democratic Presidents who, he said, were all protectionists, and in whose footsteps the Democracy of to-day was not following, they having proved recreant to their trust.

On last Saturday night the Republicans of San Francisco had a magnificent torch light parade, representing the different industries of that busy city, and showing the great interest the mechanics and workingmen of that city are taking in the protective tariff question. Some 12,000 men were in line, taking two hours in passing. The Bay City is good for a fine majority for Harrison and Protection. There is nothing the matter with California this year. She is all right!

WHO ARE DEMOCRATS!

The Democrats of to-day claim Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson as the greatest of Democrats in their day, and there is no question as to John C. Calhoun having been a member of that party. If they were Democrats they were very different from the Democrats of to-day, for on the tariff question these distinguished men spoke as follows:

"Upon the success of our manufactures, as the handmaid of agriculture and commerce, depends in a great measure the independence of our country, and none can feel more sensibly than I do the necessity of encouraging them."—ANDREW JACKSON.

"We must now place our manufacturers by the side of the agriculturist, * * * Experience has taught me that manufactures are now as necessary to our independence as to our comfort."—THOMAS JEFFERSON.

"When our manufactures are grown to a certain proportion, as they will under the fostering care of the government, * * * the farmer will find a ready market for his surplus produce, and what is of almost equal consequence, a certain and cheap supply for all his wants."—JOHN C. CALHOUN.

And here is what another one of our country's greatest men had to say on the question that is now agitating this country:

"Every manufacture encouraged in our country makes part of a market for provisions within ourselves, and saves so much money to the country as must otherwise be exported to pay for the manufactures he supplies."—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

If the above named patriots could be with us to-day every one would be warm supporters of Harrison and Protection—they could not be otherwise and be consistent with their utterances as quoted above.

If Jackson and Jefferson were the stalwart Democrats they are claimed to have been, then Cleveland, Thurman, Mills & Co. are not, as their public utterances are directly at variance. Those who call themselves "Jeffersonian Democrats" should, to be consistent with "Jeffersonian principles," espouse the cause of Protection to American Industries and support Harrison, Morton and Protection.

CONGRESSMAN VANDEVER.

It is doubtful as to whether Congressman General Wm. Vandever of this District, and the Republican candidate for re election, will be able to make a canvass of this District before the election, as there is no time set for Congress to adjourn, and the General will not desert his post as long as there is any important duty to perform, as Biggs has done, but his absence should make no difference in the support he should receive at the hands of the people of this District, whom he has faithfully and earnestly represented. It is not likely in these stirring times that the people of California will swap Congressional horses that are used to the harness, and pull together so well, for young and unbroken colts—for such is the Democratic nominee from this District. R. B. Terry, of Fresno, who is stumping this District for Vandever's place, may be a fine young man socially, and a bright one intellectually, but he is too young, and having no experience in public affairs, he is not the one to send to Congress at this time, even were his politics not objectional. California wants none but Protectionists in Congress the next two years, and she wants the friends of Harrison and his Administration to assist in making the incoming Republican Administration a brilliant one for the country and for Harrison. General Vandever, having been a Congressman from Iowa when the Rebellion broke loose, and having won his title in that strife, will command an influence and respect in the House that Reel B. Terry, the young man from Texas, who was in his swaddling clothes when Vandever was fighting his Texan relatives, can never hope to attain.

As usual the San Francisco crank Republicans are commencing to play into the hands of the Democrats by getting up their "side shows" in the name of "Anti-Boss" Republicans, and similar designations, all tending to divide the Republican party proper and assisting to elect the tools of Chris Buckley, the Democratic Boss. If we must be under "Boss" rule we should prefer to be under that of a Republican.

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefited and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and the means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the Bitters, to which science also gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all the diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilation.

Mag. Variation 16° 15' East, No. 1, N. 77° 55' W. Ascending slope of 5°, 4.54.5 chains, 300 feet, intersect north end Lode Line post, marked U. S. Grant, L. L. Post No. 1, pine post set in mound of earth and stone, size 4x4, 4 feet long; ascending slope of three degrees (3); 9.00 chains, cross pack trail running north to Eclipse Mill and Clinton; 9.09 chains, 600 feet, intersects N. W. corner post of claim, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, marked Post No. 2, N. W. corner U. S. Grant, set in mound of earth and stone. No 2, S. 12° 5' W. Descend slope of 9° through dense dwarfed growth of mountain mahogany; 10.72 chains encounter side line post marked Post No 3, U. S. Grant; descend slope 11°; 21.44 chains, 1415 feet, intersect S. W. corner post, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, marked Post No. 4, S. W. corner U. S. Grant; from whence the Section corner common to S. E. corner of Section 31, and S. W. corner Section 32, T. 7 N., R. 25 E., M. D. B. & M., bears S. 40° 34' E., 82.45 distant, as calculated from Traverse. Course No. 3, S. 77° 55' E. Ascending slope of 5°, and coinciding throughout with north end line of Livingstone claim. 4.54.5 chains, 300 feet, encounter south end Lode Line post, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of stone and earth, and marked U. S. Grant, L. L. Post No. 2; descending slope of 5°; 7.59 chains pass under south face of perpendicular croppings and run parallel to same for a distance of 1.10 chains; 9.09 chains, 600 feet, intersect S. E. corner post, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of stone against perpendicular face of croppings, and marked S. E. corner U. S. Grant, Post No. 5. Course No. 4, N. 12° 5' E. Starting on top of croppings, at a point perpendicular over S. E. corner post, descend croppings at an angle of 15°; 8.17 chains, ascend on a slope of 19°; 10.72 chains, encounter east side line post marked Post No. 6, U. S. Grant; continue on same slope; 21.44 chains; 1415 feet, intersect initial point, that of beginning.

The necessary correction for given slopes and distances has been applied.

SURVEY OF LODE LINE OF GENERAL GRANT.

Commencing at point of location, at a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked U. S. Grant, L. L. Post No. 1; it is situated on the summit of ridge which divides the waters of the North Branch of Frying Pan Creek and Green Creek, running thence:

Mag. Variation 16° 15' East.

Course No. 1, S. 12° 5' W. Descending slope of 19°; 10.72 chains, slope changes 7° downward, and passes through a scattering stunted growth of nut pine; 21.40 chains, intersects yellow pine tree, 18 inches in diameter, blazed on south side, and marked, with marking iron, U. S. G. L. L.; 21.44 chains, 1415 feet, terminates lode line at 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked U. S. Grant, L. L. Post No. 2.

Magnetic variation 16° 15' East containing 19.46 acres.

The location of this Mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Patterson Mining District, in Book "B," page 229 of Records of Patterson Mining District, Mono county, State of California.

The adjoining claimants are on the North by North Eastern claim; South by Livingstone mine; East by Bull Pine mine, and West by the P. & C. mine.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said Gen. Grant Quartz Mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Independence, in the County of Inyo, State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

NOTICE IS H REBY GIVEN THAT THE MONTE CRISTO CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY, A. Kilpatrick, Agent, whose Post Office address is Cameron, Mono County, State of California, has this day filed its application for a patent for Fifteen hundred (1500) linear feet of the Livingstone Quartz Mine or vein bearing gold and silver, with surface ground Six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Patterson Mining District, County of Mono, and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot Number 44 in Township 7 North, Range 25 East of Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, said Lot No. 44 being described as follows, to wit:

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARY OF LIVINGSTONE.

Beginning—Commencing at a 4x4 pine post, 5 feet long, marked "Post No. 1, N. E. corner Livingstone," set in mound of stone, at the south base of immense croppings, known as the "U. S Grant" croppings; these croppings are situated midway down the south slope of the ridge that forms the water shed between the North Branch of Frying Pan and Green Creeks, 1 mile east of Star City, Mount Patterson bears West three miles distant; these croppings slope down gradually on the north, but from an almost perpendicular escarpment on the south, presenting an almost perpendicular face, 60 feet in hight; running thence, Mag. Variation 16° 15' East. Course No. 1, N. 77° 55' W. Ascending slope of 5°, and running parallel with face of croppings, croppings terminate at a distance of 1.10 chains on this line; 4.54.5, 300 feet, encounter L. Line Post, 4x4 pine, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked L. L. Post No. 1, Livingstone; descends slope of 3°; 9.09 chains, 600 feet, to N. W. corner post of claim, it being a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 2, N. W. corner Livingstone, from whence the Section corner common to the S. E. corner of Section 31 and S. W. corner of Section 32, T. 7 N., R. 25 East, M. D. B. M., bears S. 40° 34' East, 82.45 chains distant, as calculated from Traverse. Course No. 2, S. 12° 5' W. Descending slope of 9°; 6.60 chains to S. W. corner of Huntington's Quartz mill; 9.06 chains, cross wagon road leading from Huntington Quartz mill to Newburgh, slope reduced to zero; 11.36 chains, to 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 3, Livingstone; descend slope 35°, 14.16 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek, 4 links wide; ascend slope of 21°; 15.81 chains, ascending slope decreases to 9°; 22.72.5 chains, 1500 feet, S. W. corner of claim at a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone and marked S. W. corner Livingstone; Post No. 4; at this point I found posted Notice of Location. Course No. 3, S. 77° 55' E. On level, 1.00 chain, line passes through a grove of young mountain aspen trees, 60 wide; then ascends slope of 10°; 4.54.5 chains, 300 feet, encounter south end L. Line post 4x4, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked L. L. Post No. 2, Livingstone; ascend same slope, 6.00 chains, slope changes and decreased at an angle of 14°; 9.09 chains, 600 feet, intersect S. E. corner of claim at a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 5, S. E. corner Livingstone. Course No. 4, W. 12° 5' E. Descend slope of 14°; 8.75 chains, encounter S. W. corner post of Bull Pine claim, from this point north, the east line of Livingstone, and west lines of Bull Pine coincide for a distance 16.98 chains; descending slope of 25°; 7.75 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek, 4 links wide; ascend slope of 22°; 8.36 chains, ascending slope changes to 11°; 11.36 chains, encounter side line post marked Post No. 6, Livingstone; ascend slope of 17°; 13.60 chains, cross wagon road connecting Huntington's Quartz Mill and Newburgh, bears N. 64° East, and S. 85° W.; 22.72.5 chains, 1500 feet, intersect initial point of survey. The necessary correction corresponding to given slopes and distances has been applied.

SURVEY OF LODE LINE OF LIVINGSTONE.

Commencing at a post set 4 links south of a yellow pine tree, 18 inches in diameter, blazed on south side, and marked in blaze with marking iron, U. S. G. L. L., the post being of pine, 4x4 inches, by 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked with india inks as follows; L. L. Post No. 1, Livingstone; running thence:

Mag. Variation 16° 15' East. Course No. 1, S. 12° 5' W. Descending slope 17°; 8.30 chains, cross wagon road leading from Newburgh to Huntington Mill, bears N. 64° East, and S. 69° West; descend slope of 13°; 13.00 chains, slope increases downward to 21°, and passes over springy and marshy ground; 14.10 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek, 4 links wide; ascend slope of 20°; 16.10 links, return to level; 9.00 chains, again ascend slope of 11°; 22.72.5 chains, 1500 feet, reach south termination of Lode Line at a 4x4 post, 4 feet long, set in mound of stone and earth, and marked L. L. Post No. 2, Livingstone.

Magnetic variation 16° 15' East, containing 20.63 acres.

The location of this Mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Patterson Mining District, in Book "B," page 255, of Records of Patterson Mining District, Mono County, State of California.

The adjoining claimants are on the north by General Grant mine; South by vacant land; East by Bull Pine mine, and West by Monte Cristo mine.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said Livingstone Quartz Mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Independence, in the County of Inyo, State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

APPLICATION FOR A PATENT.

U. S. LAND OFFICE INDEPENDENCE, CAL., August 4th, 1888.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE MONTE CRISTO CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY, A. Kilpatrick, Agent, whose Post Office address is Cameron, Mono County, State of California, has this day filed its application for a patent for Fifteen hundred (1500) linear feet of the Bull Pine Quartz Mine or vein bearing gold and silver, with surface ground Five hundred-6 (500 9) feet in width, situated in Patterson Mining District, County of Mono, and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot Number 45 in Township 7 North, Range 25 East of Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, said Lot No. 45 being described as follows, to wit:

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARY OF BULL PINE CLAIM.

Commencing at the N. E. corner post marked Post No. 1, N. E. corner Bull Pine; this post is situated in a depression formed by the rise of the croppings, known as the "U. S. Grant" croppings, on the south, and dividing ridge of the waters of Green and Frying Pan Creeks, on the north; size of post 4x4, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone; running thence. Mag. variation 16° 15' East. Course No. 1, N. 77° 55' W. Ascending slope of 12°; 3.79 chains, 250.1 feet, intersect north end L. W. corner post, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 2, N. W. corner Bull Pine. Course No. 2, S. 12° 5' W. Along west line of U. S. Grant, and identical with same, descending slope 15°; 5.75 chains, two posts placed in same mound of stone at base of perpendicular croppings, 60 feet high, marking the S. E. corner of "U. S. Grant" and N. E. corner Livingstone; course and line run identical with east line of Livingstone; descending; 11.36 chains, slope 17°, to post marked No. 3 Bull Pine; 14.88 chains, cross wagon road leading from Newburgh to Huntington Q. mill; same slope; 17.05 chains, downward slope increases to 22°; 20.73 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek; ascend slope 28°; 22.72.5 chains, 1500 feet, intersect S. W. corner, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, marked Post No. 4, S. W. corner Bull Pine; from whence the Section corner common to S. E. corner of Section 31 and S. W. corner Section 32, T. 7, N. R. 25 East, M. D. B. and M., bears S. 47° 36' East, 65.17 distant, as calculated from Traverse. Course No. 3, S. 77° 55' E. Descending slope 6°; 2.89 chains, 250.8 feet, to south end of Lode Line, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked L. L. No. 2, Bull Pine; descending slope of 12°; 7.59 chains, 500.9 feet, to southeast corner post, a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 5, S. E. corner Bull Pine. Course No. 4, N. 12° 5' E. Descending slope of 21°; 4.15 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek, 4 links wide, water falling east; ascend abrupt slope of 31°; 5.69 chains slope decreases and ascends at an angle of 15°; 10.56 chains, cross wagon road, bears east and west; leading from Newburgh to Huntington Quartz mill; 11.37 chains, to 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked Post No. 6, Bull Pine; ascend slope of 12°; 22.72.5 chains, 1500 feet, to initial point of survey. The necessary correction for chaining on slopes has been applied.

SURVEY OF LODE LINE BULL PINE CLAIM.

Commencing at point of location, at a 4x4 pine post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone, and marked L. L. Post No. 1, Bull Pine; running thence:

Mag. Variation 16° 15' East. Course No. 1, S. 12° 5' W. Descending slope of 6°; 2.50 chains, reach base of croppings; ascend slope of 15°; 4.30 chains, descend spur of croppings almost perpendicular; 5.00 chains, pass over a dike of quartz and other boulders on a descending slope of 16°; 6.82 chains, descending slope decreases to 11°; 12.64 chains, cross wagon road leading from Newburgh to Huntington Quartz mill; descending slope of 21°; 19.82 chains, cross North Branch of Frying Pan Creek, 4 links wide, its waters falling to the east; descending slope of 19°; 22.72.5, 1500 feet, intersect post at south end of L. Line at a post marked L. L. Post No. 2, Bull Pine, 4x4 post, 4 feet long, set in mound of earth and stone.

Magnetic variation 16° 15' East containing 17.24 acres.

The location of this Mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Patterson Mining District in Book "B," page 251, of Records of Patterson Mining District, County of Mono, State of California.

The adjoining claimants are on the North by vacant land; on the South by the Jersey claim East by Simonia claim, and West by Livingstone; and General Grant mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said Bull Pine Quartz Mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Independence, in the County of Inyo, State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

Manufacturer of Acorn Brand Shirts, Collars, Cuff Shirt Fronts, Ladies' Collars and Lace Neckwear,

ALBANY, N. Y.

The latest shirt issued under the "Acorn" Brand is "THE WONDER," and it is also the best shirt ever made for the Trade.

The following are some of its principal points of excellence, a printed list of which is attached to each shirt:

1st—It has the finest and heaviest muslin ever put in a shirt, (Utica Nonpareil improved).

2—It has a 3-ply linen bosom.

3—It is of extra length.

4—It is reinforced, both back and front, extending and meeting under the arm where most needed.

5—It has the Tomlinson patent endless facing.

6—It is custom make and finish.

7—It cannot break or tear anywhere.

Like the Deacon's "one-hoss shay," it has no weak spot, and will never "give" anywhere, but, at the end of scores of years, it will dissolve into space—not a thread broken or a seam started.

Fathers will bequeath these shirts, purchased in early manhood, a priceless legacy to their children.

We expect a large demand for them to place in the corner stones of lines structures as evidence of the greatest triumph of modern civilization.

We are taking steps to put this crowning achievement of art into the "Acorn" agencies in London, Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg and Constantinople, when it can not fail of instant and permanent success.

CHRONICLE-UNION.

BRIDGEPORT, SEPTEMBER 29, 1888.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Personal.

Supervisor Boone was in town on Tuesday looking after his Assembly prospects.

M. J. Cody and C. L. Hayes, Democratic candidates, were here yesterday, the former went to Cameron to see the "dear people."

Mrs. B. Cochrane, of Bodie, who has been visiting the Hughes family, returned home on Thursday.

Miss Annie Cochrane came over from Bodie yesterday to spend a day or two with Miss Ella Hughes.

Jos. Vierra and family, of Bodie, who have been at Fales' Hot Springs, went home yesterday.

Capt. John Kelly, of the Bodie Con., has returned from the East, and expects to have the Lent shaft works again running by the 20th of October.

REGISTER TO-DAY.

It has been the general impression that voters could register up to October 6th to vote at the November election, but it is found that Section 1113 of the Political Code requires the County Clerk on the first Monday in October, in a Presidential election year, to make a copy of the uncancelled entries existing on the Great Register of the respective counties. As Monday next will be the first Monday in October, all persons wishing to vote in November next must be registered by twelve o'clock to-night. We presume everybody has attended to getting their names on the Register, but if any one has not he had better fly around and get it on before midnight or he will be out in the cold on November 6th.

A JOINT CONVENTION.—The late Republican County Convention of Inyo elected P. A. Chalfant, of the Inyo Register, C. W. Craig, of the Inyo Index, and Assemblyman A. J. Gould, delegates to a Joint Convention of delegates from Alpine and Mono to agree upon a candidate for the Assembly, Alpine and Mono each having a candidate in the field—Hon. Cyrus Coleman, of Alpine, and Harvey Boone, of this county, both nominated by their respective counties, against R. S. Miner, the Democratic candidate. The Central Committee of this county has asked the Inyo Committee to indorse Mr. Boone, who has been fairly nominated agreeably with an understanding with Inyo, that Mono should have the candidate this year.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The Republican Central Committee met at Bodie on Thursday, and organized by the election of the following officers: Chairman, Silas R. Smith; Secretary, William H. Osborne; Treasurer, Philip Kuhlmann. A resolution was adopted that none but members should be allowed proxies. For the past ten years proxies have been given to those not members, and in several instances proxies have given proxies. We doubt if any Central Committee of other counties would have tolerated such abuses; at any rate we never knew of one outside of Mono county. Another step in this direction should be the exclusion of outsiders from Central Committee meetings. None should be admitted without invitation.

ARRIVED SAFELY.—A note from Lincoln Goodnow gives us the pleasant news that his brother, Dr. Lloyd Goodnow, stood the trip from Antelope to Big Oak Flat, Tuolumne county nicely, and that his health is about as it was when he left here, and he seems to be well contented in his new home. The weather had been very warm—105 in the shade, the hottest they have had in that section for many years—so hot that fruit roasted on the trees, and dropped off.

REMOVED.—George W. Penter, the Bodie banker, has sold out his Bodie property and removed with his family to Washington Territory. Mr. Penter has been an energetic and valued citizen of Bodie, and our county can ill afford to lose such men. His friends at Bodie gave the family a good send off the evening previous to their departure, and many fine presents were given them in remembrance of the good old times of Bodie. "May he and his family live long and prosper."

SOBER SECOND THOUGHTS.—Those Republicans who were a little sore-headed after the primaries are getting over their pet and resolving to support the ticket. This is as it should be. The primary election was a square fight between candidates, and those who did not get votes enough to entitle them to go on the ticket should quietly acquiesce in the decision of the majority, and let bygones be bygones. Let us dwell in peace, brethren, and march on to victory again, as we did two years ago.

AT WORK AGAIN.—School opened on Monday last under Prof. Hampton, and the pupils are now hard at work preparing to become Auditors, County Clerks, Treasurers, Sheriffs, Governors and Presidents. Forty-one were present at the opening and several new scholars have reported. After a good long vacation the scholars seem to be glad to get back to their studies.

THE MINING SUIT.—The trial of the Standard Con. and Bulwer Companies suit will commence in the Superior Court on Wednesday next. Forty-eight jurymen have been summoned to provide an intelligent jury of twelve to try the case.

WINTER SUPPLIES.—Our people, particularly the farmers, are busy getting in their wood and other supplies for the Winter. It is well to have a goodly sized wood pile near one's domicile in such Winters as the last proved to be.

MAY LUNDY MINE SOLD.—Geo. W. Butterfield, of Lundy, has arrived home from London, where he negotiated a sale of the May Lundy mine. He was accompanied by Dr. O'Connor, a capitalist of Glasgow, who has come to close the sale. We have no particulars of the transaction. We congratulate our Lundy friends on this favorable outlook for this valuable mine, and that section of our county. May Lundy's "boom," be at hand!

HEAVY RAIN.—Thursday evening we had a heavy thunder shower, the earth getting a good soaking. The heavenly fireworks were grand. We have been having daily showers.

ADMITTED.—Yesterday Judge Hakes admitted Chas. L. Hayes, of Bodie, to practice in the Superior Court. Mr. Hayes is the Democratic candidate for District Attorney.

BODIE ASSESSMENT.—The Bodie Con. has levied an assessment of 50 cents a share; delinquent October 29; sale November 30th. See Notice under "New To-day."

BOARD OF EDUCATION.—The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Education, for the examination of teachers, will be held here on Tuesday, October 9th.

ANDY'S QUEEN.—A. H. Allen's fine mare, Queen, won the trotting race at Bishop Creek, at the Eastern Slope races.

WILL MEET.—The Board of Supervisors will meet in regular session next Monday.

INYO POLITICS.—The Inyo Republicans nominated the following ticket last week: Sheriff, Thos. C. Boland; County Clerk, W. W. Collins; Treasurer, W. H. Walker; District Attorney, George M. Gill; Coroner and Administrator, Thomas Parker. Delegates were appointed to confer with delegates from Mono and Alpine counties on a nomination of a candidate for Assembly.

ESMERALDA REPUBLICANS.—The Republicans of Esmeralda county, Nev., have nominated the following ticket for county officers: Sheriff, W. N. Aiken; Recorder, Geo. Garrison; County Clerk, J. Huelat; Treasurer, E. W. Clark; District Attorney, B. F. Curler; Assemblymen, H. Marden and J. T. Jones; Commissioners, Jas. Cardwell, long term; —. Wilson, short term.

AN OFFER.—For the past six months or a year a Sacramento widow has been advertising in the Bee for an attorney to settle up an estate for her, for which she will pay a fee of $10,000. As the Sacramento lawyers are too busy to attend to such small matters, here is a chance for one of our smart Mono lawyers.

A HOLY TERROR TO DEMOCRATS.—Blaine is worrying the Democrats very much. They can't turn a corner, cross a street, hold a meeting, print a paper, shove out a free trade document, raise a pole, hold a ward meeting, or ride home after dark without imagining they see Blaine towering above them. If Blaine was of no more consequence than they pretend he is, they would waste no time on him. But he is a "holy terror" to the Democratic party. And notwithstanding the mean opposition to him in his own party, the extensive feeling that there should be a change, and the fact that in the count in New York the Democrats accredited 5,000 votes to Cleveland that had been cast for Ben Butler, they beat him but 1,047 votes. He had the whole opposition down, and they counted him out by such roguery. They would have been immensely glad had he never come back to America.—Greenville (Ohio) Sunday Courier.

The President has appointed John P. Barr, of Georgia, to be Register of the Land Office at Seattle, Washington Territory. As there are no Democrats residing in Washington Territory fit for the position, Cleveland rewards one of his "Solid South" friends. Another nail in his political coffin.

Fresno county, the home of Reel B. Terry, the Democratic candidate for Congress, will give General Vandever a fine majority for Congress. Vandever fought the Mills bill which reduced the duty on raisins, which would cripple the industry so prominent in the southern counties of this District.

There will be a total eclipse of the sun on the 1st of January next, visible in North America. But the eclipse this country is most interested in is the eclipse of the Democratic Party and Free Trade to come off on the 6th of November next. It will be a daisy.

Department Commander T. H. Goodman, G. A. R., who has returned from the encampment at Columbus, Ohio, says there were 65,000 Veterans in the procession, and 159 bands. He says there will be an immense rush of people to California this Fall and Winter.

The Governor has appointed Judge John D. Works, of San Diego, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, vice E. W. McKinstry, resigned. Works will be elected to that position on November 6th.

The late election in Maine was not much of a "boom" for Democratic county candidates. Out of 99 the Democrats elected 3, the Republicans electing 96. That is the way it is going to be in many of the States.

George L. Converse, an ex-Democratic Congressman from Ohio, and a confidential friend of the late Samuel J. Tilden, is out for Harrison and Protection.

Harrison, our next President, continues to receive delegations of hundreds and thousands of his countrymen, who delight in honoring him.

THE CHINESE RECORD OF THE DEMOCRACY EXPOSED.

Major P. S. Dorney, of Los Angeles, made a telling speech in San Francisco last week, and after instancing the energy which the Democratic party has always displayed in battling for the interest of Southern free traders, reviewed the Mongolian record of California's Democracy in the following words: "The first American-Mongolian treaty was negotiated in 1847 by a Democratic administration with James K. Polk as President. In 1850, McDougall, California's Democratic Governor, advised legislation favorable to Chinese immigration, and he referred to the Chinese as a 'most desirable class of citizens.'"

The Democratic Assembly of 1852 reenacted the infamous fugitive slave law. It passed the Peachy bill which legalized in California contracts for labor made in China, and which provided that a laborer brought here under contract, and who should leave his master, might be apprehended, brought back and compelled to work out his term of contract slavery. The same House refused to pass a bill to tax Chinese, and Hager, our Democratic Hager, caused the adoption of a resolution providing that a committee should be sent to China.

In 1852 the Democratic Legislature laid the miners' tax bill on the table. This bill was leveled at the Chinese, and provided for the levying of a head tax on aliens. In 1856 labor commenced to growl at the Chinese, and the Democratic Legislature appointed a Democratic Committee of Inquiry, which reported: "We say the tendency of the Chinese is not toward corruption. We think they have done us no harm."

In 1858 the Reed treaty with China was negotiated, and was ratified by President Buchanan, "Democratic Ten-Cent Jimmy." In 1862 Leland Stanford, the first Republican Governor of California, called the attention of the Legislature to the alarming growth of Chinese immigration. A head-tax bill was introduced, but it was defeated by Democratic votes, as was also Sears' bill to protect white labor. A miners' tax bill was fought through, but because it was leveled at the Chinese it was declared null and void by a Democratic Supreme Court.

In 1868 a Democratic Governor (Haight) hastened from Sacramento to welcome Burlingame and his pigtail embassy.

The feasting and praising of the Orientals by Mayor McCoppin, Delos Lake and W. T. Coleman was also referred to, and in the same connection Major Dorney recalled Cleveland's participation in the grand "pow-pow" given at Washington to the Chinese Embassador.

He went on to say: "Ah Grover was the first Chief Magistrate of the American Republic, Ah Haight the first chief of an American State, and Ah McCoppin the first chief of an American city, to insult their race by sitting at the table with pigtail Chinese. They were all Democrats, and though they would refuse to register at the same hotel with a negro, they were happy and content with sitting cheek by jowl with Ah Lai Che Pan."

In 1869 a bill granting a large area of tide lands to a railroad corporation was before the Democratic Legislature of this State. An amendment forbidding the employment of Chinese was defeated, and of the forty-two votes cast against that amendment, thirty-two were cast by Democrats. At that time labor was depressed and restive; the rank and file of Democracy began to lose faith in their party on the Chinese question, and under the leadership of an honest but disgusted Democrat, General A. M. Winn, the sovereigns of labor were organized. At that time, too, the Democratic cheap labor free-traders of the South made contracts with Koopmanchap & Co. for Chinese Labor, and under those contracts thousands of coolies were imported.

The anti-Chinese riot in Los Angeles in October, 1872, was also referred to by Major Dorney, during which a Spanish police officer and an American citizen were killed by Chinese natives. As an outcome of the riots a Democratic Court sentenced half a score of Americans to terms of imprisonment varying from sixteen to twenty-two years, and the speaker insisted that of the men imprisoned all but three were innocent.

The formation of the Order of Caucasians in the Spring of 1877, followed by the so-called Trout Creek massacre, were referred to, and Major Dorney told how the Democratic Administration, to appease China, favored the prosecution of certain citizens of Truckee. The cause of the arrested men was espoused by the Order of Caucasians, and $260 was raised in Truckee for their defense. Niles Searls, the Democratic aspirant for Chief-Justice, was unrelenting in his persecution of the incarcerated men, who were, however, tried, proved innocent and discharged.

The consistent antagonism of the Democratic party to workingmen was dwelt upon by the speaker, and he told how a "sweet-scented Democratic supervisorial trio—Gibbs, Wise and Foley"—had made brutal threats relative to the carcasses of workingmen dangling from the city lamp-posts. "And all," said the speaker, "because the workingmen had lost faith in the Democratic party on the Chinese question."

The concluding portion of the Major's speech dealt with Cleveland, who is accused of ordering the United States troops to Rock Creek and Seattle to defend Chinese and arrest whites. Furthermore, he stated that it was Cleveland who kept Stephens, the "pro-British-American Consul," at Victoria, "the back door through which Chinese dodge the Restriction Act."

"It seems to me, papa," said a young Chicago politician, aged 5 years, the other day, "that it's taking Mr. Cleveland a long time to write his letter of deception."—Chicago Tribune.

HE DID SAY IT.

The Bulletin, in common with other journals, has quoted President Cleveland as saying: "I believe in free trade as I believe in the Protestant religion." We have received many letters asking for proof that the statement is correct, and we have taken great pains to trace to their origin these words attributed to the President. It is not our desire to misrepresent the President or any one else. We have in our possession conclusive evidence that the President used the expression some time ago in a private conversation with an ex-Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, who repeated it to Colonel McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times. Colonel McClure repeated it to a gentleman of prominence and veracity, and finally the President's expression became public. It has never been disputed either by the President or those who repeated it. There is no doubt whatever of its authenticity.—Tariff League Bulletin.

GAME LAWS.

The acts relative to game and fish, as amended by the last Legislature, prescribe the following as the seasons within which the game and fish specified may be lawfully taken. (Amended 1887):

Quail, partridge, grouse, rail, September 10th to March 1st; doves, June 1st to January 1st; male antelope, deer or bucks, July 1st to December 15th; female antelope, elk, mountain sheep, female deer, or doe, killing at any time unlawful; spotted fawn, killing prohibited; taking quail, partridge, grouse or rail, by net or pound, prohibited; trout, April 1st to November 1st; salmon, October 1st to August 31st; fishing for salmon, shad, etc., between 6 o'clock Saturday evening and sundown of succeeding Sunday, prohibited; fishing by explosives, or by pound, weir, cage, trap, or setnet, prohibited.—San Jose Herald.

Sam Wah and his white wife, of Chicago, have been running a Matrimonial Bureau, securing white wives for a $25 fee. Four or five Chinese have been so favored.

INDIAN LIFE IN ALASKA.

Their Huts, Mode of Cooking, Simple Meals and Practice of Half-Baking Themselves.

The Indians of Alaska spend their winters in the mountains. They are generally found in villages consisting of from two to a dozen houses.

The winter house of these people consists of a hemispherically shaped hut, made by bending willow saplings or cutting spruce to the desired shape. The framework is covered with brush, and over this dried moss and turf to the depth of a foot or more. There is an ice window on either side of the entrance. In the roof is a hole just over the fireplace for the smoke.

Inside the centre of the hut is used as a fireplace, the fire being made the same as in the open air! At the back of the hut is a meat stand, upon which several hundred pounds of deer-meat are kept, so that a quantity will be on hand sufficiently thawed for use. Upon entering a hut when traveling, some of this partially thawed meat is always offered to the newcomer.

The floor of the hut is covered with brush, upon which they sit during the day, and spread skins to sleep upon at night.

Meat is cooked but once a day. About five p. m. a large fire is started and the pots are put on. These are the ordinary kettles of civilization, which they get in trade, or, in their absence, pots made of native clay are used. The cooking is done by the women, who taste the meat from the moment it is put on the fire until cooked.

The remainder of the fire is then thrown out through the hole in the roof by the young men, and as soon as the hut is clear of smoke, the flap that covers the chimney-hole is hauled over for the night. The hunters usually return about this time of the day, and upon entering the hut take off most of their clothes.

After eating pounds of the deer meat, alternating the cooked with raw meat, and drinking quantities of the soup, they smoke a pipe and all hands go to sleep.

All the household are fond of stripping and baking themselves before the fire, particularly the old people, who go so close as to almost blister themselves. They say the heat makes them young and drives away their pains.

HE BISHOP'S FALSE TEETH.

Declared by an African Convert To Be the Wonder of the World.

Many a good story has been told about the consternation and dismay produced by the sound of the Scotch bagpipes on uninitiated ears. They are said to have put to flight foes for whom a bayonet charge would have had no terrors. But the story told by Bishop Taylor in Asbury Church last evening about the effect which his movable teeth produced among the blacks in Africa seems to cast all the other yarns of this kind into the shade.

Somehow his black brethren came to know that the good bishop had false teeth, and one of them gently and tremulously broke the subject to him in conversation one day.

Not wishing to be suspected of witchcraft, the bishop told the children of the sunny South that in big America where he came from, when a man lost a leg, he could go and get a new one made. When his hair fell off he could buy a fresh supply, and so with teeth; when they dropped out or were pulled they could be replaced.

"Then," said the bishop, "I drew out my beautiful, white, clean porcelain set, and when they saw that you ought to have seen those darkies run and scream and gesticulate. One woman declared she had seen the wonder of the world, and was now content to die in peace."—Buffalo Courier.

GREAT FEATS OF MEMORY.

Sermons and Essays Repeated Verbatim after Being Heard but Once.

Idiots have been known whose memory for names and words was so retentive that they could repeat a sermon verbatim and indicate where the preacher blew his nose and coughed while delivering it.

Cardinal Mezzofanti, the linguist, who is said to have known a hundred languages, declared that he never forgot a word he had once learned.

To a friend who congratulated Leyden on his remarkable memory he replied that he often found it a source of great inconvenience. On the friend expressing surprise he exclaimed that he had often wished to recollect a particular expression in something he had read, but could not do it until he had repeated the whole passage from the beginning to the expression he desired to recall.

An English clergyman mentions a man who could remember the day of the burial of every person who had died in the parish during thirty-five years, and could also repeat the name and age of each deceased person, and the names of mourners at his funeral. But so weak was he intellectually that he could not be trusted to feed himself.

Dr. Moffat, the distinguished African missionary and father-in-law of Dr. Livingstone, once preached a long sermon to a crowd of negroes. Shortly after he had finished he saw a number of negroes gathered about a simple-minded young savage. He went to them and discovered that the savage was preaching his sermon over again. Not only was he reproducing the precise words, but imitating the manner and gestures of the white preacher.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Endearing Familiarity.

A teacher in one of the public schools says that it is sometimes extremely difficult to obtain from young children the names of their parents.

In one instance a little boy was asked what his father's name was and gave the surname. He was asked what the rest of his father's name was and said he did not know.

"Well," said the teacher, "what does your mother call him?"

The boy promptly replied: "She sometimes calls him an old crank."—Albany Journal.

Cruel Injustice.

A little girl who made too much noise in the early morning in her sick mother's room was put out into the hall, and soon after a miserable old rag doll, of which she was very fond, was tossed out to her.

This was the "straw" that did it.

Snatching up her beloved, and hugging it tightly in her arms with streaming eyes, she sobbed out to her grandma: "I wouldn't a tared, but what had Judy done."

MEDICAL.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terrible fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Address,
